02 Licensing

Pro tips
? Teams Phone lets a user be an enterprise voice user. A Calling Plan is Microsoft acting as the carrier, bought separately.
? An auto attendant or call queue resource account usually needs a free virtual-user license, not a Calling Plan, unless that app places outbound calls.
? Teams Premium does not include Teams Phone or a phone number.

Interview traps
? Buying a Calling Plan and expecting Direct Routing to start working.
? Licensing every resource account with a Calling Plan because the queue has a phone number.
